PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Acuform partnered with long-standing client Coldwell Banker D'Ann Harper, REALTORS® to design a new multi-tenant office building that reflects the company's modern rebranding and meets the demands of today's evolving real estate industry. Located along the I-35 growth corridor north of San Antonio, the building features adaptable layouts, open work areas, and lounge-style spaces that support a more casual, tech-savvy, client-focused experience.

Traditional materials were reimaged with a contemporary touch, creating a clean, approachable aesthetic aligned with the company's modern rebranding. The building as a whole was designed to be adaptable, efficient and welcoming supporting not only the needs of Coldwell Banker but also those of future professional tenants.

“Your firm responded quickly and very accurately with the design, plan preparation and coordination with the entire design and build team that was assembled. Thank you for a job very well done.”
